To: Mike Gargiula, President of Gargiula Construction

It has been my extreme pleasure to have had Gargiula Construction provide Construction and Project Management services on our personal residence addition. The project was completed with a high degree of quality and completeness to our benefit which I attribute to your excellent attitude, knowledge, hard work and skill demonstrated by you and your entire support Team (including your Superintendent – Pete Peterson; and the many qualified Subcontractors) who performed their work with a high level of knowledge and professionalism while constructing our home addition.

From our initial meeting, it was obvious that your personal knowledge of construction along with your ability to understand our specific goals in developing our 2-bedroom, 1-bathroom addition with an adjoining pool area was invaluable in completing our project successfully for our needs. Throughout the entire construction, I gained an appreciation for you and your entire support Team's ability to coordinate with the various participants (i.e. trades, subcontractors and material suppliers) to the overall success of our project.

Working together over the last year, we recognized that we initiated several key changes to the design during the construction, gave me an appreciation to your ability to accommodate the changes with "seam-less" impact on the progress. In reviewing your "open-book" disclosure for the cost increases gave both Susan and myself total comfort with the honesty and integrity demonstrated in your attending to our needs. Thank you.

Because of these demonstrated attributes, I would recommend Gargiula Construction to any potential Owner/Client who might be contemplating any construction project and would welcome their call at any time to discuss your personal integrity and ability to perform. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Lee, Principal Architect
